A Horrible Tragedy in Pennsyl-

Two Brothers Bound and Flendishly

7 HAZLETON, PA., October 16.—Between 8 and 9 o'clock last night a terrible double tragedy was committed at Seybertsville, a tramps entered a small house some distance back from the main road, in which Kester, aged respectively fifty and fifty-four years, and demanded a large sum of money which was known to be secreted in the house. The Kesters refused to reveal where their money was hidden, and the gramps then bound them hand and foot tramps then bound them hand and foot and beat their brains out with a heavy club. After committing the murder they fled, and have not yet been arrested. The two brothers had lived in a frame shanty about one mile from Seybertville for thirty years. They gained a livelihood by cultivating a small patch of ground and doing odd jobs for the neighboring farmers, and by economy managed to accumulate several thousand dollars, which was generally supposed to be secreted in the house. With them lived John Kester, jr., an illegitimate son of the elder of the jr., an illegitimate son of the elder of the two brothers. When the young man returned to the house, about 9 o'clock last night, he was horrified on discovering the dead bodies of his father and uncle lying on the floor. He quickly alarmed the on the floor. He quickly alarmed the neighbors, who hurried to the scene of the neighbors, who hurried to the scene of the tragedy, and an examination showed that John had been shot through the head, and that William had been beaten to death with a heavy club, his head being horribly crushed by repeated blows. Several times yesterday four tramps were noticed lurking in the vicinity, and the police authorities say that they have convincing evidence that they are the parties who committee the crime. Search is being made for them. The drawers and trunks in the house had been ransacked, showing that the object of the murder was robbery, and it is supposed that the tramps had heard that the money was hidden in the house. Young Kesler says that the money was secreted outside the house, and that the murderers did not secure it.

COLUMBUS, O., October 16 .- Shortly after noon to-day some rattle-brained persons hung out an immense "bloody shirt" across the street in front of the Democratic headquarters. It bore the words, "New South,"
"New North," and "A New Deal; the Last of the Bloody Shirt." The shirt was an immense affair. It was about twenty feet long and ten feet wide, with sleeves six feet long. Great daubs of red were spattered over the breast in imitation of blood. At first the banner created a great deal of amusement, but about 3 o'clock a number of old soldiers went in a body to the headquarters and demanded in the name of the G. A. R. that the bloody emblem be taken down. As Chairman Powell was not present at the time, no attention was paid to the request. A few minutes later a request was received from Governor Hoadly asking that the banner be taken down at once. Before this could be done, however, a large crowd had collected, and just as the janitor began to loosen the ropes a number of men rushed forward and, seizing the banner, carried it off. They brought it back

A Child's Awful Fate.

MONTREAL, October 16. - Yesterday morning, as the wife of Jean Baptiste Romilly, a farmer in St. Vincent Depaul, a feeding her fowls, while her child, age two years, was playing around, suddenly large bald-headed eagle swooped down and bore the little one off in its talons. The child screamed and extended its arms to its mother, who was beside herself with its mother, who was beside herself with men al agony, but was powerless to render assistance. The screams of the child, however, attracted the neighbors, who, with shotguns, pursued the engle. The bird was seen to alight with its prey upon the roof of a barn a mile distant. Lifting up its head, with one powerful stroke it drove its beak into the child's head and then began its horrid feast. At the near approach of the neighbors, who were firing guns to frighten it, the earle took flight, leaving the child behind. When the body was recovered life was extinct. The skull was recovered life was extinct. The skull

CHICAGO, October 15.—General Nelson A Miles, who is in the city, received a telegram yesterday from Lieutenant Henry T. Allen, of the Second cavalry, stating that after his Alaska explorations, having completed a journey through the regions of the far north, which, in the opinion of General Miles, excelled all explorations on the American continent since Lewis and Clark and the world's record since Livingstone. Lieutenant Allen left Sitka last February and the world's record since Livingstone. Lieutenant Allen left Sitka last February and journeyed to the north of the Copper River, which he followed until he reached the Great Alaskan range of mountains. These he crossed on snowshoes to the head of the Tennah River, in itself a marvelous accomplishment. For 700 or 800 miles he followed the Tennah until it emptied into the Yukon, the greatriver of the north, to its mouth, a distance of 400 or 500 miles more. Upon the completion of his great journey Lieutenant Allen repaired to Fort Michel, on the Bering Strait, and returned on the steamer Corwin. The exploration of the Tennah and Yukon Rivers has been the ambition of explorers long before Alaska came into possession of the United States, but the Russians failed each time it was attempted. Since then several explorations by American officers have ended in failure, until among the army officers on the Pacific coast the feat came to be considered well nigh impossible. Lieutenant Allen's companions were a sergeant and an officer of the Signal corps, together with Indians whom he persuaded to join him.

An Amusing Scene Caused by a Peculia CHICAGO, ILL. October 15 .- An electric light wire at the corner of State and Harrison This in turn passed the electric fluid along hand-railing, and, returning by anothe railing, made a complete circuit. A colored man happened along. He leaned wearily against the railing, and then bristled up with energy. His arms were warped around the railing and his body was bent like an italic letter S. He had no idea what was the matter with him, and, being unable to let go his hold, called loudly that he was dying. A dozen men ran to his assistance, and were soon experiencing the tingling effect of the electricity. Some laughed, others cried and many called for help. Agrowd soon gathered, and a few additional victims were hanging to the hand-railing. Finally the crowd numbered nearly five hundred persons. Cars were stopped and no one could get past. A police wagon arrived just as an enterprising man had discovered the cause of the trouble and released the victims. The police dispersed the crowd, everybody laughed and no one was arrested. railing, made a complete circuit. A colored

A Dreadful Sight. FARGO, DAK., October 14.—The news has just reached here that the wife and child of Seth Staunton perished in a prairie fire in Barnes County, thirty miles from here Saturday. The fire started from a threshmen had left it for dinner. Mr. Staunton, who was some distance from his house, two miles from the origin of the fire, was bare-ly able to reach there before the flames, and thought it too late to save the buildings. He took one little child under each arm and told his wife to follow with the oldest one. Soon looking back, he saw his wife and child enveloped in flames. Mrs. Staunton perished there, and the child was so badly burned that it died the next day. The fire parted at the house and left it untouched. A few thousand bushels of wheat and a barn or two burned. At the same time another fire a few miles west destroyed some fifteen thousand bushels of wheat on the farm of N. V. Townley, and the house and buildings of Ed. C. Booth and much other property of other parties. The total losses from fire in Barnes County this season are put at $100,000.

BUFFALO, October 14.-A singular and Lake Erie vesterday. The strong east wind which was blowing here lowered the water two feet at this end of the lake, so that the work of loading craft with coal in the Blackwell canal had to be suspended. At Toledo the wind blew a gale from the west, and the Maumee River dropped two feet below level, and the steam barge Drake could not leave that port on account of low water. The two currents must have met somewhere off Port Stanley, Ontario, so from that point to the American shore there must have been abill of water of at there must have been shill of water of at least four feet in height in the lake. Such a thing has never before been known on the lakes.

WASHINGTON, October 14.—Dispatches om various points in Virginia confirm the reports of an earthquake shock Friday night. A letter from Charlottesville says: Intelligence from Louisa, Fluvarna, Campbell, and from every district of this county, concurs in placing the time of the first shock at half-past II o'clock P. M. The shock was evidently greater here than at any other point from which information has been received. In Charlottesville houses vases were shaken from mantels in some cases, and everything generally so well shaken that people were aroused from their slumbers and sprang out of bed and ran to the windows to see what was wrong. One gentleman, who had not retired, walked across his floor during the quaking, and avers that his house rocked so violently that he experienced the same difficulty that one has in walking on the cars while they are in motion. The shocks, for there were two, were accompanied by cars while they are in motion. The shocks, for there were two, were accompanied by a rumbling noise which could be heard for some time after the quaking ceased, and which was mistaken by some for thunder. A great many people were very badly frightened." At Warrenton the shock was distinctly felt. It wakened persons from their sleep and rattled windows. Three distinct shocks were felt in Lynchburg between 11 and 12 c'clock Friday night. A loud rumbling sound preceded each shock. The direction of the disturbance was due north and south. The shock was also felt in certain parts of Richmond, but the vibrations were very slight. Advices from other points west and south of Richmond report slight shocks. At Stanton the shock was very perceptible, continuing over half was very perceptible, continuing over half

The State Committee claims that the Legislature is Republican on joint ballot without the fourteen members from Hamilton County by at least five and probably nine. If Hamilton County is Democratic the Senate would likely have one Democratic majority. With Hamilton County the Republicans would have a strong ma-jority on joint ballot and a working ma-

There are strong indications that there will be trouble and attempts at fraud in connection with the majority in the next Legislature. Both the Democratic and Re-publican State Executive Committees have peratic committee claims fifty-six mem-bers in the Honse and twenty-one in the Senate sure, while the Republican committee says it has positive information that its party has fifty nine in the House and seventeen in the Senate, not counting Hamilton County and a number of other doubt-

Columnus, O., Oct. 15.—In an interview last night Governor Hoadly stated that he felt proud of the vote he received, and he by no means considered the result as a rebuke of his course. The Governor said he would be inclined to charge the result is chiefly to the fact that Ohio is a Republican State, and that it was the Listory of political contests that a State generally goes the next year after a Presidential election the same as it had gone before. In the second place he considered one of the principal causes which led to Democrats had this year nominated in nearly all the counties containing cities men who were friendly to the liquor interests, and, in a great many cases, saloon men had been named by the Republicans had this element with them, and a large percentage of the Republican liquor men voted with the Democrats for the reason that they feared prohibition is a result to the Legislature. Two years ago the next year after a Presidential in a great many cases, saloon men had been named by the Republicans had this element with them, and a large percentage of the Republican liquor was taken away by the fact of the peculiar for the Legislature of the counties containing cities men who were son that they feared prohibition of a high tax. This year the force of this argument mominations while were made, and the saloon men could not be made to believe that these men would work against their interests in the majority in this county, and is elected by about 4,500 majority.

Hoadly, 3,-600 men could not be made to believe that these men nominations which were made, and the sa-loon men could not be made to believe that these men would work against their interests A third element of defeat, the Governor Democrats to the prohibition cause. This latter he considered one of the most re-markable features of the vote. To prove that there was a large stay-at-home Democratic vote, he cited the falling off from his handsome majorities in Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dayton, Columbus and other cities of the State two years ago. The land's civil-service policy had anything to do with the result, and he was emphatic in the statement that it was the least of all the causes, if it had anything to do with it. In his canvass there was nothing which he could say that would meet with so much favor and applause as an indorsement of the Administration of President Cleveland. The Governor said that, personally, he did not care anything about the office, but nation when it was proffered him and make the canvass, and of course he wanted to make as good a showing as he could. He did not think the plurality of his opponent vould be more than 7,000 or 8,000.
